

Occupation: Planning Commissioner, Attorney

Sausalito's pressing issues demand a city government of action, not reaction.

During 8 years on the Planning Commission: I voted to upgrade two Sausalito parks. I voted to move transient shelters away from schools. I voted against high-density development in 9 Sausalito neighborhoods.

As a long-term resident: I urged the City Council to seek resident input and decide the ferry landing design in a public forum, not behind closed doors. I championed Open Space Sausalito.

During 20 years representing cities and counties: I developed extensive experience negotiating with Sacramento lawmakers addressing such issues as Airbnb, housing requirements, transient shelters, and zoning regulations.

As your city councilperson: I'll work hard to sustain Sausalito's small town character and improve fiscal stability; develop and enforce a bicycle management plan that allows cyclists to patronize our shops without ensnaring traffic; and assure residents have a voice in planning the future of Sausalito – all while continuing to work together with residents, staff and councilmembers in a collaborative and collegial manner.

I ask for your vote to keep Sausalito livable.

Member: Planning Commission, Sausalito Foundation, Sausalito Historical Society, Presidio Yacht Club, Friends of the Library, Sausalito Woman's Club.
